

Veterinary Acupuncture
and Physiotherapy

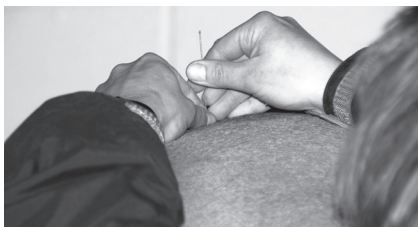

Helping horses to win and cats to breathe

How Acupuncture, Physiotherapy and Herbs can help animals

A holistic approach can solve performance problems, minimise the impact of injuries and speed up recovery, improve the quality of life for elderly animals and help with tricky immunological problems.

“An acupuncture demo is going to take place at the A.P. Vet - Stall at 11 am and 2.30 pm. If you have questions please come along at any time.”

At A.P. Vet Ltd. qualified and experienced professionals embrace a genuinely holistic approach. Hannah Price has worked as a Physiotherapist since 2003 and did her Masters in Veterinary Physiotherapy in 2008. She then worked in specialised rehabilitation centres for 5 years before joining A.P. Vet in 2013.

Dr. Iris Ege graduated as a vet in 2003, has specialised in holistic veterinary medicine since and gained an international certificate in acupuncture in January 2013. She also uses herbs for a broad range of conditions.

We treat at veterinary practices in Kington, Malvern and Hereford and visit horse yards in the West Midlands, Mid and South Wales.

For more information please visit our website or give us a ring on:

01497 851608 or 07974 394157

www.ap-vet.co.uk